

IT'S TEA TIME

2020 ELINOR WILLIAMS HOOKER TEA TALK SERIES

What's Belief Got To Do With It?

SUNDAYS, FEBRUARY 2 - MARCH 8 (2 - 4 PM)

Sunday, February 2 | Temple Israel, Portsmouth

WE ARE OUR BELIEFS OR ARE WE?

This panel will explore the nature of beliefs around race, how they are formed, how they affect us, and what happens when our lived experience challenges those beliefs.

Presenters: Chris Matthews, Jeannine Jacques, Eric Schildge

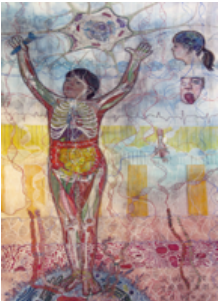

Sunday, February 9 | Portsmouth Public Library | Levenson Room

NO NEUTRAL GROUND: MEDIA AND BELIEF FORMATION

Presenters will explore how media coverage operates to help form individual beliefs and attitudes around race and social culture.

Presenters: Shelley Walcott, Eric Ratinoff, Howard Altschiller

Sunday, February 16 | Portsmouth Public Library | Levenson Room

MEDICINE, HEALTH AND RACE

This panel will discuss how myths about racial inferiority and physical racial differences have operated in the fields of medical practice, social work and mental health.

Presenters: Shari Robinson, Daphne Robert, Kerri Osborne

Sunday, February 23 | Portsmouth Public Library | Levenson Room

CULTURE AND RACE IN THE PUBLIC SPHERE

This panel will discuss the historical role the arts, literature and interpretive spaces have and continue to play in shaping culture and beliefs.

Presenters: Anthony Poore, Nathaniel Sheidley, Dennis Britton, J. Dennis Robinson

Sunday, March 1 | Portsmouth Public Library | Levenson Room

RACISM WITHOUT RACISTS: EDUCATING GENERATIONS PAST & PRESENT

This panel will explore the history and challenges educational institutions have faced in educating a diverse student body and ways to create spaces for more parity & inclusion.

Presenters: Liz Canada, Kabria Baumgartner, Mabelle Barnette, Elizabeth Dubrulle

Sunday, March 8 | Temple Israel, Portsmouth

NEW VOICES: OUR BELIEFS, OUR REALITY

With a lens on educational institutions, politics, and the law, this discussion will feature emerging New Hampshire voices who will explore where we are culturally as a state and where we want to be.

Presenters: Funmi Oyekunle, Carlos Cardona, Courtney Dalbec, Jordan Thompson

These participatory lectures are presented by the Black Heritage Trail of New Hampshire in partnership with the Portsmouth Public Library & Temple Israel | Sponsored by RiverWoods
Events are Free and Open to the Public. Visit www.blackheritagetrailnh.org